

MOTOR DEATHS SHOW INCREASE

Larger Cities Are Adopting
Drastic Rules in Effort
To Reduce Accidents

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Despite the passage of numerous ordinances and the adoption of traffic regulations in the larger cities of the country in an effort to curb accidents from motor cars, reports from more than a dozen of the metropolitan cities of the middle-west show an increase in the number of accidents for the first six months of 1933, compared with the same period of 1932.

This increase has caused city officials to prescribe drastic rules in governing motor traffic in an endeavor to lessen danger in modern traveling. Several of the cities are shown to be waging war on the speeder, in many cases imprisonment being added to fines by municipal judges for adoption of rules to curbing at street intersections, elimination of glaring headlights and educational campaigns are other methods used in many cities in the campaign against accidents.

WORKHOUSE SENTENCES.
In Chicago in 1931, deaths attributed to motor accidents totaled 575 as compared with 475 in 1930. Non-fatal accidents totaled 8,457 in 1931 and 7,085 in 1930. During the first four months of 1933, non-fatal accidents totaled 2,533.

Forty-three persons were killed and 1,055 injured in automobile accidents in Cleveland from February 1 to August 1, 1932. To offset this, workhouse sentences have been imposed upon speeders and reckless drivers, no one under 18 years of age may drive a car and second offense for failure to have title burning results in arrest, no matter what the circumstance.

STOP AT BOULEVARDS.

To curb accidents in St. Louis, where 62 were killed during the first six months of this year and 1,327 were injured, an educational campaign has been started, one-way traffic has been established in congested districts during business hours, automobiles must come to complete stop at all boulevards, must not pass a street car discharging passengers and must not exceed eight miles an hour in the congested districts and 20 miles in the residential districts.

Detroit's attempts to increase safety are the adoption of the tower system of regulating traffic and the establishment of safety zones for street car passengers. Another ordinance requires all persons to be able to drive an automobile under all conditions before being granted a state driver's license. Seventy persons were killed there during the first six months of 1932 and 1,921 injured.

FINED $2 A MILE.
Strict enforcement of speed laws and frequent jail sentences for speeders and reckless drivers has been the method adopted in Indianapolis for increasing safety. In downtown sections traffic officers direct pedestrians while others direct street traffic.

In Oklahoma City, most of the main traveled streets have been designated boulevards and before crossing these motorists are required to come to a complete stop. Heavy white "Stop" signs painted on the pavement at these intersections remind the driver.

An "unwritten law" is in effect in Louisville where police court judges assess a fine of $2 for each mile an hour above the speed limit. Penitentiary sentence under charge of manslaughter is provided for drivers found responsible for deaths resulting from accidents. Cars must be under full control at all street intersections.

Milwaukee has instituted a left-hand turn and a jay-walking ordinance requiring pedestrians to cross streets at intersections. Automobiles on prescribed thoroughfares are given right-of-way over all traffic crossing such streets.

Thirteen deaths because of automobile accidents were reported during the first six months of 1932 in Dallas, Texas. In downtown sections the right-hand turn only is permitted, cars are required to stop at least five feet in the rear of street cars discharging passengers and safety zones have been established at various points in downtown streets.

2,200 YEARS AGO
FIRST MOVIE SEEN

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The earliest idea of a moving picture was recorded in the time of Confucius, the Chinese philosopher who lived 500 years before Christ. At least this is the deduction drawn from his studies into the question by Will Day, a well-known figure in the English film world, who has just returned from London a collector of relics and machines tracing the growth of the moving picture from the first primitive idea to its present form.

The "shadow shows" of the time of Confucius were the first of all known endeavors to present animated pictures. From this early time, however, there was a long period of inactivity in development. For the next record of progressive achievement is found in 1846, when Athanasius Kircher published a book in Latin entitled "Ars Magna lucis et umbræ," in which a description and illustration is given of a moving picture which the writer had evolved with mirrors and a tallow candle for illumination.

Included in the collection is the original disc which Muybridge used to settle the controversy between two American millionaires on the Alamo race course as to whether the four feet of a trotting horse were off the ground at the same time.

The experiments which Muybridge carried out is said to have cost the University of Pennsylvania $40,000, but the fact was proved that a horse actually lift all four feet simultaneously.

DIVINE HEALING ALREADY PRACTICED

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Consideration at the Protestant-Episcopal triennial general conference of divine healing, and the question of giving it official sanction as a part of church work, drew attention to the fact that several churches in the Chicago diocese already maintained classes in faith healing.

Among such churches are the Church of the Redeemer, of which Rev. Dr. John H. Hopkins is rector, and St. Henry's, of which Rev. Dr. Norman H. Hutton is rector. The Rev. H. P. Puller, assistant rector of St. Chrysostom, declared that church was not to be classed at this session, but to co-operate with the physician by strengthening faith and mind.
